"All students who are interested in radio work are asked to contact Tim Quiney or myself through the Co-op boxes," said Bill Buchan today, "we are in need of additional talent to use as specialty acts on coming broadcasts."

W. A. A. Welcome J. C. In New Sport Night

With 60 women from both colleges participating, the first combined State-W. A. A. Sportnight was held last night in the women's gym. The program was opened by Babbette Lau, president of the W. A. A., who welcomed the junior college entrants.

Mixer games were interspersed with ping pong, badminton, and other sports during the evening. One of the features of the program was an exhibition of tumbling by the P. E. Majors club.

The joint meet was concluded at 10:30 p. m. when the W. A. A. committee served refreshments to the gathering.

L. R. C. Guest Speaker Talks Today in 208

Dr. V. G. Lava, University of Columbia graduate, and Dr. Caesar Sordano of the University of Rome, will be guest speakers at today's meeting of the International Relations Club, in room 208. Their topic will be: Current problems in the Pacific Area, with particular attention to the conditions in the Orient. After the lecture an informal discussion will be held. Members of the Oriental Club are invited to be present at this meeting. On Saturday, March 20, a get-together party of the two clubs will be held at the International Institute House, 1860 Washington Street, at which time the two above-mentioned doctors will speak.

Thanks to 'The Recorder'

An editorial appearing in a recent issue of The Recorder, a San Francisco legal publication, points out the serious need of San Francisco State College for new buildings and urges the passage of the appropriation bill now pending before the State Legislature.

The College wishes to extend its heartiest thanks, not only to this publication, but to the many other San Francisco newspapers that have contributed their support so willingly. They have outlined in news stories and editorials the conditions here; they have pointed out that College Hall is a dangerous fire trap; that classroom space is inadequate; in general, that the housing here does not come up to our present needs, but is a menace to the safety of the students.

Realizing that the surest way of winning our battle is to get the problem before the citizens of San Francisco as well as the Legislators of the State, trusting in them to lend their assistance, we have sought the cooperation of the newspapers of the city. And we have received it. Photographs, news stories, and editorials published by them have impressed in the minds of the San Francisco citizenry the necessity for rectification of conditions here. Student officials and a few active members of the Student Body have been working hard on the building campaign, and it is definitely an encouraging factor to realize that they have the cooperation of such a powerful factor as the city press.

Therefore, to those newspapers who have so willingly lent their assistance to our cause, we pledge our everlasting appreciation, loyalty, and our ardent support.

Big World's Fair Aids Little World's Fair

After interviewing World's Fair officials, W. J. J. Smith reports that they are cooperating with State on the Miniature World's Fair, and are sending the Pirate Girls to award cups to the winners. Stunts include an Olympic-like relay run over a city route from the Big Fair to the Little one. Although there are many prospects, no definite outside exhibitions are as yet scheduled, but there are many campus affairs under way. The Music Federation, Los Lazarillos, the Freshman Class, the Executive Board, and Brush and Pallette have already made definite plans. According to Bill Smith, "Intensive advertising will start next week." He continued, "The spirit on the campus has been splendid thus far, and it is urgent that all clubs and organizations who wish to enter to contact me immediately in order to reserve their ideas and space."

Committee Meets Delay

Word came late yesterday afternoon that the committee composed of Bud Decker, Howard Demeke, and Ed Cockrum had made a fruitless trek to the capitol as the matter of an increased maintenance budget to include State's building plans was postponed until next Wednesday.

Stephan Lehmer Heard At Decennial Dinner

Groups interested in reserving separate tables for the Decennial Dinner honoring Dr. Alexander C. Roberts are urged to communicate with Mrs. Ruth Witt-Diamond immediately. Bids will sell for $1.50 to all faculty members and $1.25 to all of the student body.

Stephen Lehmer, popular baritone, will be heard as a soloist and other equally good entertainment has been promised by the committee in charge.

All students interested in aiding Dean Mary A. Ward, who is in charge of the receiving committee, should contact her at their earliest opportunity.

Dinner Dance for High Junior Class

There will be a High Junior Dinner Dance Saturday, March 27, at the Hotel Cecil Penthouse.

It is to be a semi-formal affair. The charge of admission is 50 cents for class members or $1.25 if a guest is brought.

"Following the full course dinner there will be dancing and games. Everyone that comes is assured a good time," said Pauline Quirk, committee member.

Those intending to attend are urged to sign up before noon of this Friday.

Six Hundred Students Entertained By State Music Federation Monday

Visitors Participate in Music
Education Conference Held Here

Approximately six hundred visiting high school and junior college students will be entertained by the local student body and Music Federation Monday, March 22. These students will be here to participate in the Music Educators Conference to be held March 21-24.

A dinner sponsored by the student body will be served these students at 6 o'clock Monday evening in the Co-op. Following it a party will be held in the music building. At 7:45 there will be dancing for the guests and members of the Federation in the gym with music supplied by Roy Chilton and his eleven-piece orchestra.

Assisting Leon Minear, president of the Music Federation, who is the general chairman for the entire evening, will be Norman Zech, chairman of gym decoration; Paul DePoister, chairman of the Co-op committee; Connie James, chairman of the party in the annex, and members of the Federation board.

Westminster Club Holds Sports Mixer

Keeping pace with the social activities of the school organization, the Westminster Club held a Sports Mixer Wednesday night at which time about thirty men and women enjoyed themselves in the various games of darts, shuffle-board, ping-pong, and basketball. After the entertainments, refreshments were served to complete a happy evening.

Next Wednesday a regular meeting is scheduled at the Westminster Center. The students are asked to bring their lunches as the whole noon hour will be needed to discuss the plans for a proposed week-end trip to the summer home of the Bolander's at Point Reyes in Marin County. While there, a conference is to be held, and all students at State are invited to attend. At this meeting, the new committees will be appointed for the new term.

Newmans Entertained By Quartet and Trio

A quartet of State students and musical trio added to the entertainment of the Newman Club Wednesday night. Community singing was enjoyed and between songs the members found time to discuss further plans not only for the closed dance at the Palace Hotel the middle of April, but also for the noon dance which they are sponsoring here May 5th. Following the business, refreshments were served in keeping with the St. Patrick theme.

Fourth Biennial Conference
Will Feature Brahms'
Requiem

Sunday night, March 21, at the Congregational Church, at 8:00, the combined forces of the Music Department will present, as an introduction to the California-Western School Music Conference, the Brahms Requiem, as the opening of their fourth Biennial meeting, which is their first meeting in San Francisco in 14 years, as an introduction to their 3-day conference.

Under the direction of William E. Knuth, all of the vocal organizations, and the school orchestra, will combine in presenting one of the largest musical numbers Brahms has written, and perhaps one of the greatest music fetes this department at State has ever presented.

In addition to this is a shorter number, one also for chorus and orchestra, the Wagnerian Festival Music. Although this is a shorter number, it will give the splendid brass and reed sections an ample opportunity to show their true worth.

Stephen Lehmer, a student at State, who is also one of the leading tenors with the Chamber Opera Company, will sing the solo.

"I think that we are extremely fortunate in having such a fine vocalist as Stephen Lehmer to sing with us," spoke Leon Minear, President of the Music Federation.

Open Road Club Holds Oriental Tea Meeting

A novel meeting of the Open Road Club will be held on Monday, March 29, between four o'clock and five-thirty. The members will be dressed in typical Japanese costumes and thirty-five minutes will be set aside for a ceremonial Japanese tea. Margaret Capps is in charge of the entertainment and heads the committee which had been busy making hand-made invitations in keeping with the Oriental idea. The affair is to be limited strictly to members of the organization with the exception of a few faculty members who are interested in the activities and aims of the group.

THIS BILL SHOULD PASS

"The sum of $2,380,000 is hereby appropriated . . . for the purchase of land and the erection and equipment of buildings for the San Francisco State College, by the Director of Education."

This Assembly Bill 586 was introduced by Messrs. Williamson, Cronin, Peyser, Maloney, McMurray, Dawson, Hornblower, Sheehan and Levey—the entire San Francisco delegation in the lower house.

It is a worthy measure, and should pass.

In the upper house it will have the backing of Senator Walter McGovern of San Francisco and the warm support of Lieutenant Governor Hatfield.

The San Francisco State College is the Cinderella among state colleges. It is about time that the State of California enact the role of fairy godmother in its behalf.

Says one authority:

"It is an excellent school, with a fine staff of teachers and an ambitious student body of 1500 boys and girls, three-fifths of whom are from San Francisco homes.

"But it is horribly overcrowded; those 1500 students are jammed into class rooms built to accommodate 800 pupils; two shacks were built the year before last for classes, but they are cold and noisy and teaching in them is difficult.

"The administration building dates back to 1907 and has been condemned as a fire trap.

"Facilities for healthful athletics and physical education are meager."

More impressive still is the plea made by the student body, as follows:

"San Francisco State College is facing a crisis. Badly in need of new buildings and an athletic field, the college is undertaking a campaign to secure necessary funds for the adequate development of its campus.

"This campaign is being undertaken by the students of the college. Determined to secure a modern campus with decent buildings, 95 per cent of the student body has signed a petition asking the legislature and state officials for adequate funds for the development of the college.

"We have sat passive and watched the rest of the state colleges grow into modern institutions with fine buildings and spacious campi. Now that over 1500 students are attending San Francisco State in buildings originally constructed to accommodate 800 pupils, we feel that we have reached the point where the only alternative is to demand relief of this situation.

"The figures covering the building appropriations for the seven state colleges in the last nine years give basis to our plea for relief. When you compare the appropriations to the various colleges in proportion to their enrollment you will readily see that San Francisco is deserving of better buildings."

	Enrollment	Appropriations
San Jose	1,758	$737,232
Fresno	1,686	575,450
San Francisco	1,537	270,000
San Diego	1,480	791,000
Santa Barbara	981	484,341
Chico	649	708,450
Humboldt (Arcata)	315	336,000

"After looking over the above figures, you might ask, 'Why has San Francisco been slighted?' The situation is as follows: A 10-year building program for the state colleges was set up in 1927, and each college was to enjoy a share. The rest of the schools erected necessary buildings, but when San Francisco's turn came the program was abandoned.

"We, the associated students of San Francisco State, feel that the situation is no longer a matter of a 'turn.' The college is a dangerous fire trap, overcrowded, and a disgrace to the metropolitan area of San Francisco.

"In recent years a great deal has been done to provide modern, safe buildings for the school children of California. Therefore, it seems unreasonable that the state would allow students to go to college in obsolete, unsafe buildings."

We look to the legislature and the governor to deal justly with San Francisco State College.—San Francisco Recorder.

NOTES TO YOU

MEYER CAHN

Walking along the music buildings the other day, we witnessed a conversation, typical of what we hear all our lives. It goes like this:

A: "What's doing?"

B: "Nothing much."

With that illuminating answer the conversation (if I may call it such), came to an end and both students stood as if waiting for the heavens to pour forth something to talk about and to live for. Like many, they will continue to wait until someone hits them over the head and tells them that there is always something doing.

Maybe your scribe is slightly nuts, but he sees hundreds of things "doing" which are so close that he can hardly avoid them. Let's get down to cases:

Have you heard about the war between the board of directors of the S. F. Symphony and Conductor Pierre Monteux? "Lessen the amount of modern music on your symphony programs," demands the board. Aren't you thrilled over the coming appearance of Igor Stravinsky? Composer Stravinsky doesn't get to San Francisco very often and this is his first experience conducting the S. F. Symphony in his own compositions. As for the coming Cal-Western School Music Conference, if you aren't thrilled with the opportunity of attending, you are either in the wrong department or you are in love.

Are you a movie fan? Did you see "The Lost Horizon" or "The Good Earth"? Go! See for yourself the renaissance of the movies. Revel in the Hilton story and enjoy the impeccable Luise Rainer.

As for politics, if you haven't climbed on either side of the Rooseveltian Supreme Court Bandwagon, you're missing a fight as thrilling as any Joe Louis ever fought. And if its fighting you like, just jump alongside of Ed. Cockerum and he'll lead you to a swell one. It's up in Sacramento.

Have You Any College Stationery?

Chamberlin's Tripe

Now that all both of the readers of this column have warned us that we have dropped greatly in their estimation, we can, having established a mutual understanding, proceed without misgivings.

Can it be that Bud Glasgow is turning back to Jerry Lebrecht after the intriguing Billie Carrington was supposed to have gotten her claws in?

What of never-gonna-take-a-tumble Eddie Collins being wrapped around the finger of Jane Callum to the extent of passing out envelopes for her . . . and all those little things that mean so much?

And "Little Lover" Muldoon chasing the elusive heart of a freshman . . . such rot for a dreat big manikins like you, Frankie.

Hazel Patton and Ben Ziegler: from the best of authorities on the subject we have a tip that your technique is superb . . . you really put your heart and stuff into th' ole oscillation.

Letter to Dolores Goetzee:
"Dear Butchy-wutchy:
"I suppose after I get through with this music conference work you will have forgotten all about poor little bitsy me. Remember what you promised, Butchy, and don't forget to love little me.

"Your darling Toots,
"Leon Minear."

Overheard in the hall . . . McDevitt: "I just want to see how rugged you are." Gladys Ward: "But I could be put in jail for that." The reason for printing this is obvious . . . we're curious as, well, we're plenty curious.

Ben Melzer of San Jose State printed the following notice:

Will the person who took my wallet in the men's locker room please leave it where it can be found. Keep the three bucks. God is watching you. Please—Spartan Daily.

These amuse us: Marsh O'Blum and Mickey McJacobs turning in stellar performances at the wearin' of the green; quick death, apparently, of the Commentator; Cliff Worth's burning desire to revivify, or should we say revivify, his column, as we laughingly term it, of yesteryear.

Another pet gripe: the idiotic, loud-mouthed, boisterous, nose-y, so-and-soes that insist on cluttering up the Pub Office when a paper is in the process of being written and made up.

Impervious alike to the most biting sarcasm and bitter words, they merely drop a lower lip in their best Beetzian petulance when tossed out. Nor do they stay out, th' lugs.

Jinx Following Baseball Team; Cal Game Off

Wet Field Blamed As Contest Is Again Postponed; Squad Lacks Work

Tough luck, that old man of sports who has been dogging State's athletic teams during the past few weeks, again showed his head and as a result the track meet with Cal Aggies, slated for Wednesday, and the baseball game with the University of California have been called off.

It was the second time that each of these contests have been postponed because of inclement weather. The Gater nine was to have played the Bears on February 26, but on that day it rained. Yesterday, although the sun was up, reports from Coach Clint Evans of the Berkeley club, stated that the field was six inches thick in mud.

Track Meet in April

The California baseball game is definitely called off for this year, but the track meet against the Mustangs will be held in April, if it doesn't rain.

Already forced to forego one game this week, the sluggers of Coach Hal Harden had their hearts set on meeting the Bears, and were all set for the battle of the century, but that little heart breaker, Jupiter Pluvius had to step in again.

California had just returned from Los Angeles where they had to play three games in two days. However, Coach Evans would gladly have met the Staters had the field permitted. State will have to be content with their single game scheduled for April 7th against the Cinnamon Bears for their only chance to get at those Bears this season. Last year's struggle with the Bearlets resulted in a 2-2 tie.

Nine Lacks Work

With only one practice in the last week and a half, the local baseballers are having a hard time keeping in condition. Pat Bowers, playing baseball at State since 1933, remarked at that one practice, "By gosh, I think I've forgotten how to put on a suit, it's been so long since I tried."

If Old Jupe takes it easy for a few hours, State will meet the Cal Aggies in baseball and San Jose in track tomorrow.

Netmen Seek First League Win Against St. Mary's At Palace

English Has Tough Opponent in Gael Star Man

Entering their third league match with yet to hang up a win, the Gater tennis team crosses racquets tomorrow with the Gaels of Moraga, otherwise known as St. Marys College. The sets will be run off at the Palace of Fine Arts.

Netmen Win One

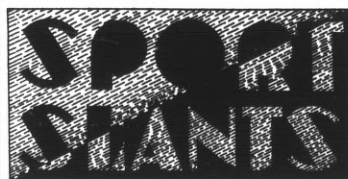

With only one victory in hand after three matches, the Purple will enter the match with the trans-bay outfit as decided underdogs. Of the three teams the Gaters have met, they have successfully turned back only the Cal Aggies, winning 6-4 last Saturday, after losing 6-3 to U. S. F. the day before. Considering that U. S. F. had the contest in the bag by the end of the first doubles match, State looked rather weak. Especially was this true in the singles, when out of the thirteen sets played, State won only three, English winning his match in two straight sets and Rod Cavanaugh managing to take one, while dropping two.

Dons Eke Victory

It was not until the last match of the day that these same Dons managed to eke out a victory over the Gaels, winning 5-4, many of the encounters going to three sets. These comparisons don't prove anything but would seem to indicate that the Staters again have their hands full. Upon the probability of Billy Hammond, number 2 man, playing, hangs State's chances of defeating the Moragans. Hammond was injured recently in an automobile accident and did not play against the Dons or the Ags.

Ronnie English, undefeated in inter-collegiate competition, faces his toughest opponent of the season when he runs up against St. Mary's number one man, Schuman.

Schuman defeated the U. S. F. number one man, Johnny Lang, worse than English did. However, Doug Crary and Rod Cavanaugh who will play second and third for the Gaters, should win their matches. If State is able to take a majority of the doubles, something they did with U. S. F., they will win.

By DAVE SCHUTZ

Did I hear that nominations were in order? Swell. I'd like to nominate Ronnie English as State's number one showman. Sure I have plenty of reason, in fact all twelve of the spectators at the U.S.F. matches last Friday have plenty of reason.

Entering the Palace of Fine Arts courts an hour late and rushing to keep his opponent from waiting any longer, Ronnie, with his entire harem present, proceeded to win State's first match of the day by soundly trouncing the Dons' leading player, John Lang, 6-4, 6-0. Then without a rest period he teamed with Doug Crary to take the doubles.

Playing Perfect

It was the cool, deliberate manner in which he worked that was so remarkable, every shot was a bit of perfection. As one onlooker remarked, "Put a stamp on the court and he'll glue it there."

That little blond feller, who isn't much taller than my baby nephew is really a remarkable workman. Anyone who can meet the opposition that he has met and still remain undefeated must have something. But he really has his work cut out for himself tomorrow. He has to meet the ranking player on the St. Mary's squad, one Hank Schumann. This same Mr. Schumann beat that Mr. Lang person worse than our Ronnie did, and if our blond Bitsy Grant is going to remain undefeated, he'll have to show more of his brilliant showmanship. So if youse guys and gals aren't going to the baseball game at Roberts Field, you ought to drop in at the Palace of Fine Arts tomorrow and take a squint at this genius of the clay courts.

Jayvees Beat Lowell

By taking the half-mile relay, State's Junior Varsity tracksters defeated a strong Lowell High School team 57½-53½ at Kezar Stadium last Tuesday.

Led by their big star, Mel Long, who took three first places, the Cards led up to the last event, but with Speed Hopkins running anchor, the Gaters were able to overtake them.

Hopkins did all right by himself, taking firsts in both sprints besides winning the relay. Hal Landau, a freshman who graduated from Lowell, won the mile easily. Ernie Peninov, with a toss of 107 feet, captured the discus tossing event.

The track was muddy and as a result times were fairly slow, however, performances were very good for so early in the season. Although the prepsters took more firsts than State, the count being seven to six, the Gaters came back to cop eight out of the twelve second places, this giving them a winning margin.

Other place winners for the Purple runners were Bassett, Leavitt, Denner, Burros, Pantages, Prather, O'Connor, and Graham.

Gater Nine Opposes Cal Aggies In Game At Roberts Stadium

Contest Slated for Tomorrow Ru Stone May Toss

Ending one of the rainiest weeks of baseball State has ever engaged in, the Gater nine entertains the California Aggies in the first of their two-game series tomorrow at Roberts Field, starting time is 2 p. m.

State Pitchers Worn

Having already had two postponed games this week, State will be pretty well cold, and Coach Hal Harden is not sure who he will start on the mound, although his choice will probably be Runar, Stone.

The rest of the starting lineup will be pretty much the same as usual, Kenny Wilkes, short stop; Joe Lee, second base; Bill Abbey, catcher; Pat Bowers, left field; Hal Wood, center field; Dick Osborne, right field; George Bogdanoff, first base, and Doug Crary, third base.

Dobbins Returning

The Aggies have shown much more strength this season than last, when the Gaters won two easy decisions from them. The Mustangs held the strong University of California squad to a 5-3 score in their only major contest of the year.

Returning to the Aggie team is Pitcher Bill Dobbins, who chucked against the locals last year.

Other than Dobbins, Coach Crip Toomey's nine is made up mostly of sophomores and a few juniors with only a little experience, but plenty of natural ability.

With no games scheduled again until next Thursday, the Gaters, although lacking in work, will put everything into this first game against the Farmers as they haven't lost to them yet and they would like to continue the string.

The two teams will meet again at Davis May 1; this will be the last contest on the Gater slate for the year.

San Jose Next Opponent For Cinder Artists

Spartans' First College Affair For Local Runners; Hopkins Ready

IF—an old gent with long whiskers and sea-weed in his hair and named Jupiter Pluvius stays where he belongs, which in the archives of ancient Grecian lore, this Saturday, the track team of San Francisco State will play host to the athletes of San Jose State on the Kezar Oval.

Two successive dates the ancient character has proved himself mightier than a group of husky runners, shot-putters, and jumpers and has stepped in to prevent the activities of such an aggregation. Weather prophets say that the old guy can't do it again, but the weather has a nasty habit of making prophets a little embarrassed.

Rain Plays Havoc

For two weeks the rain has played havoc with Coach Dave Cox' track and field squad. Practice and a lot of it is needed to round the Gater aspirants into any kind of shape, but the old guy who has a habit of making Chamber of Commerce pamphlets look like downright fables had different ideas.

For this reason, little is known as to the respective abilities of either squad. The Gater squad has not worked as a unit yet this season and will face the Spartans with a lot of question marks behind entrants.

Sprinters Untested

The local sprinters composed of veteran Ronnie Lindlow, and newcomers Errol Evans and Ernest Peninov are yet to be tested in collegiate competition. The weight-tossers, Steve Ebert, Dick Hurst, and Eric Pantages will be in their first try of the current season.

Even Coach Cox' star performers, Stan Kuder and Daryl Hopkins, have found the scarcity of time a detriment to development. So, if it doesn't rain, Cox will find out what his 1937 machine can do. Bill Harkness, three year veteran, has been dropped from the squad through necessity, because his injured shoulder has failed to heal.

Intramural Baseball Slated to Begin Monday; Block "S" Has Two Squads

With two teams representing the Block "S", the intramural baseball schedule is slated to get under way next Monday. Although few teams have as yet entered into the competition, it is hoped that twelve full squads will be ready for the opening firing.

The teams will consist of eight men, although substitutes are allowed. There will be no second basemen, due to the short right field. Today is the last chance to enter the league, if anyone is not affiliated with some squad already, he should get together with some other fellows and get signed up as everyone must be entered officially or he is ineligible.

Many classes or clubs are privileged to do as the Block "S" has done, which is making up a first and second team. The object of this tourney is to give as many as want a chance to play during the noonday recreation.

Other organizations that have definitely sent in teams include the Golden Gater staff and Newman Club, the Dingbats and the Screwballs.

The Ill Effects of Jupiter Pluvius Or a Dissertation on Precipitation

The big blue car stopped in front of the booby hatch and as the grey-uniformed keeper stepped out, he was followed by a wide-eyed, jittery little man, who occasionally sent a furtive glance toward the dull skies. As he was led away he kept singing, "Rain, Rain, when you goin' a rain again."

"Take it easy on him, Joe," the warden told the keeper, "he's a State athletic manager who went beserk after his umpty-fourth game rained out. Now he thinks he's a mulberry bush."

A bit far-fetched, you say? Not a bit, I say. Let's consider the poor baseball manager. He starts sending out letters as early as December, arranging about thirty games, including some swell trips. Then what happens? Fresno says they can't play, no money. Four games shot. Sorry, but we can't come to the city, says Modesto. We're not ready, according to San Mateo. Then Pluvius washes out the games with Cal, San Jose, Menlo, and S.F.J.C. No wonder managers go nuts!

April Fool Dance For Los Lazarillos

Everyone is welcome to attend the April Fool Dance to be given by Los Lazarillos today at the home of Aurora Martin. Members of Brush and Pallette are dining at Veneto's on Thursday, March 18. The price of the dinner is 50 cents.

Shafts and Bows for Proselytes of Diana

W.A.A. is beginning an archery class to be held from 12:00 until 1:00 on Thursdays on the upper field. According to Babbette Lam, president of W. A. A., this class is limited to 25 girls who have had P. E. 18 or its equivalent. Miss Gundiff is sponsoring the activity which met for the first time yesterday, March 18. Credit is offered to girls who qualify.

Low Sophomore Easter Dance Held in Gym

"Plans for the Low Sophomore Pre-Easter Sport Dance, to be staged in the gym on Wednesday night, March 24, are well under way," stated Morley Carrothers, Low Soph president. This event will be open to the student body. Tickets will be on sale Friday morning at 25c per person, or 50c a couple.

French Club's Plans Ha' Gang Aft Agley

After having three attempts at picture-taking thwarted by bad weather, the French Club has set Tuesday noon for their next try. At that time a short meeting will be held in order to vote on two proposed excursions that the group will make. One plan is to visit the French Library on Mason Street, followed by a dinner at some French restaurant.

Pacific Relations Symposium Friday

Dr. V. G. Lava, University of Columbia graduate and former professor at the University of the Philippines, together with Dr. Caesar Soriano, architectural engineer and who recently graduated at the University of Rome, will speak at a symposium on "Pacific Relations" today at 12:10 p. m. in room 208. The lecture will be jointly sponsored by the International Relations Club and the Oriental Club.

Dr. Lava will speak for about ten minutes only in order to allow sufficient time for the asking of questions. Special attention will be paid to the economic, social, and political situation in the Orient and the part being played by Uncle Sam in that corner of the world.

Mrs. Bertha H. Monroe, professor of sociology, and sponsor of both of the sponsoring clubs, urges all students interested in the current problems of our fast-changing world to come to the symposium.

Ma's and Dads Fill Student Loan Fund

D'ya wanna buy a cake? Well, you better. Pretty soon now the gals of Delta Sigma Nu (all rigged up in fancy duds) will be around to sell you one.

It seems that the Patron's Association, the ex-parent-faculty club, is going to sponsor this cake sale in order to raise money for the student loan fund.

Them as has been hard up, and has borrowed some dough from this fund knows how good it is, and for your own benefit you better do your part and buy a hunk.

Oh, yes, if you don't want a whole cake, price 50c, you can get a half, price 25c, or a sliver for five or ten cents, depending on the size of the sliver.

The good ladies of the assn. are going to bake them according to your preferences. Pretty soon now there will be a questionnaire in your post-box which will have space for you to indicate your pet variety.

English Not So Hot Says Colgate Prof.

Hamilton, N. Y.—(ACP)—Don't sentence college students too heavily for murdering the English language!

In answer to your "why not?" Dr. Leo L. Rockwell, director of the school of languages and literature at Colgate University, will explain that it's the language's fault and not the student's.

"English has at least four things the matter with it: first, it is used every day. No one expects students of algebra to go out and do their problems on the sidewalks, but English students are barely out of the classroom before they show what they haven't learned.

"English as a language is one of the most treacherous of our social tools. Words change their meaning almost every time they are used.

"Students have to waste endless time learning the worst system of spelling in the western world, so they haven't much time left for really important things.

"Too many people know too much about English and what they know is wrong."

Students who do not pay their course fees by Monday, March 29, will be excluded from classes.

Leslie Howard says Luckies are "tops" with his throat

"Years ago, as an ambitious young actor, I was impressed how well my throat liked Luckies and how well they suited my idea of a perfect cigarette. That impression still stands. In my recent tour of 'Hamlet', with its many performances each week and the attendant tax on my throat, I have been convinced anew that this light smoke is both delightful to my taste and the 'top' cigarette for an actor's throat."

Leslie Howard

THE FINEST TOBACCOS—
"THE CREAM OF THE CROP"

An independent survey was made recently among professional men and women—lawyers, doctors, lecturers, scientists, etc. Of those who said they smoke cigarettes, more than 87% stated they personally prefer a light smoke.

Mr. Howard verifies the wisdom of this preference, and so do other leading artists of the radio, stage, screen and opera. Their voices are their fortunes. That's why so many of them smoke Luckies. You, too, can have the throat protection of Luckies—a light smoke, free of certain harsh irritants removed by the exclusive process "It's Toasted". Luckies are gentle on the throat.
